I am proud to say that for nearly twelve years we have accomplished this goal as a symbiotic unit expanding on the ideas of fermentation, raw, high quality sourced ingredients, integrating environmentally friendly practices, and challenging the FDA to ensure the choice of healthy, truly raw products for all our pets. I would add this to his wet food like a food topper. Fermented Fish Stock and Raw Goat Milk. They are a local company that sold pre-packaged raw dog food. To all pet owners that have purchased the List, Answers Pet Food has been removed from the 2021 List. Keith is now in charge of operations. If you're raising a dog that is currently thriving on one of the Answers Pet Food diet protocols, all is not lost. Be patient because raw food brands are usually small companies with limited staff and I bet many are being hit up with inquiries from pet parents around the US right now. And, honestly, I think after the initial drama dies down, folks will continue buying Answers Pet Food. This sucks because I have to add digestive enzymes to his food and they're aren't cheap. If you clicked over to this blog post, then it's probably because you've heard the news about Answers Pet Food and you're wondering what you should do next. This is a personal blog so I stick with what I know and what I'm doing for my dogs. Post was updated 5/11/2021 to add a 10th raw food brand. I also purchased a couple of cases of the detailed formula for Rodrigo (geriatric) and Scout (cancer). #nojudgment Instead, I wish everyone well because it's ultimately about our dogs. They have also decided to resign as employees and officers of the company. The raw patties are exactly that, raw patties of meat. And I place an even larger order through my local raw food co-op. But there are a lot of amazing brands that I do trust for my dog (in no particular order): * Raw Feeding Miami offers great variety and if you have been contemplating DIY raw feeding, this is a great place to start. We further send our appreciation to the devoted, hardworking farmers and tireless volunteers who collaborate and advocate for raw foods for our companion animals. Memo from Answers Pet Food, May 2, 2021 Memo to ANSWERS™ Pet Food Business Partners, Distributors, Retail Stores, & Pet Owners (click here for memo) Dear Associates, My name is Keith Hill, and I am President and CEO of Lystn, LLC d.b.a./ANSWERS™ Pet Food. Although I've done a couple of Lives sharing initial thoughts, I have been holding out for more information (shared below) before publishing my thoughts on my blog. I'm only concerned about which products will be going away, what changes will be made to ingredients and sourcing, and how those changes will impact the food. After about a full month, Max started eating less and less of the raw patty so I began to cook them. Read More About Raw Feeding So while I wish it didn't need to smell so bad, the health of my dogs is worth it. Answers Pet Food Executives Resign and a Dumpster Fire Is Set The news that the brilliant founders of Answers Pet Food, Jacqueline Hill and Roxanne Stone, left the company, followed by the Science Director and Face of Answers Pet Food, Billy Hoekman, and their on-staff veterinarian, Dr. Doug Knueven. There are shortages due to COVID; I know this first hand because it takes longer for me to get my orders for their fermented chicken feet and a couple of other items have been on backorder. (I know this one only applies to me!) Cons - I absolutely hated handling the raw patty. I am still feeding the fermented fish stock, kefir, turkey stock, and chicken feet. And I'm excited for what Jacqueline, Roxanne, and Billy will do next. To be honest, I don't believe that there are apples-to-apples alternatives to this amazing brand. While I am encouraged that our company continues to make life changing differences in pets' lives, I am also dismayed that disparaging misinformation has been spread to employees/workers and some suppliers, and now the perpetuation of the false narratives to our distributors, retail partners and pet owners. Many of you know and associate with my wife, Jacqueline Hill as well as other employees of the company on a routine basis with less familiarity of me because I work behind the scenes and am not directly involved in sales and marketing. We will be updating this post with the latest information as it arises, and we welcome you to visit the links below for the most up-to-date information: Q&A: Sourcing and other concerns: addressing recent events: commitment to transparency remains, and we are working to provide answers and updates as much as possible. Source: Answers Pet Food Facebook Page Statement from Jacqueline Hill and Roxanne Stone It is with a very heavy heart that we announce our resignation from Answers Pet Food. We leave the company with a heartfelt gratefulness to all the incredible, dedicated, conscientious, passionate humans and their animal companions that made this venture and upward movement in the raw pet food industry possible. We sincerely appreciate the support, education, and commitment from all those involved in bringing nutrient dense, functional, beneficial, raw foods to our companion animals. Their product sources are all organic. So many pets count on Answers Pet Food, so I pray for Keith's success with the company and I'm hopeful that the new direction turns out to benefit everyone. It is unknown at this time if the brand will be questioned for consideration in the 2022 List. Source: Truth About Pet Food But are there alternatives to Answers Pet Food? I don't know, but we're no longer feeding our dogs Answers Pet Food's food. The dogs seem to love the taste of the Raw Goat Milk and Fermented Fish Stock. Before making the move to Answers Pet food, I contacted them via their Facebook page and also watched several of their live webinars. I'm not concerned that their products going forward will be harmful. I just want more information. Max, my 14-year-old Miniature Schnauzer, needed to be on a special diet for kidney issues and hypolipidemia. Let me assure you that ANSWERS™ Pet Food remains committed to its core values, but in order for the company to continue to move forward with its mission, it is now necessary to bring clarity to the questions raised by these false narratives. Foremost, Jacqueline and Roxanne are not being forced out of the company or being removed from leadership roles in the company. They have several different meat sources to choose from. Update on Our Experience with Answers Pet Food It's now July and Answers has been under new management for more than a couple of months now. The Fermented Fish Stock STINKS!!!! I mean, the smell!!! I have a dog with a beard so this means nightly face washes. They are three brilliant people who have made amazing contributions to our pets' health and I can't imagine that they're finished. But at least I can take "drink fermented fish stock daily" off my bucket list. He ate the food and then had watery diarrhea for two days. I switched from raw protein to cooked protein for Max. I'm blown away by the nasty and cruel statements being posted with glee on social media. I'm currently dealing with a troll (read this story on Patreon) and the level of anxiety and stress, the sleepless nights, the headaches and the general feeling of malaise are a struggle. But maybe my timing was off and I couldn't tell, but the dogs could. ANSWERS™ Pet Food has policies and practices in-place to protect all classes of our employees and owners. If DIY isn't your jam, not a problem. 2 - People are fast to go to the dark side when dealing with stressful news. FYI - four dogs with diarrhea isn't fun. However, the company is financially sound, and the inventory shortages are also due to growing demand for our products. I had never fed my dogs a raw food diet but I wanted to learn more. I've been hearing from people that the fermented fish stock has changed so I'm going to purchase it myself and I'll report back. I believe the company will change and adapt, but I don't believe that it will go away. Although Jacqueline and I are struggling through a divorce, the company will continue to manufacture and sell our wonderful products. Answers informed me that by cooking the patties, I was releasing and destroying most of the nutrients that were beneficial for dogs. I started small. In the meantime, I'll continue DIY raw feeding along with feeding other raw food brands. I believe that they add needed nutrients to their food. The beauty of Answers Pet Food, besides the people and the farms, is the fermentation and, right now, I don't know of any brands that are fermenting their foods. When Max was fully switched to raw, I would give him the Raw Goat milk in the morning with some banana and half a patty and in the evening the Fermented Fish Stock with fresh veggies like carrots, broccoli, kale and the other half of the raw patty. I tried two more cartons of food (turkey, chicken, and pork) and the dogs wouldn't eat any of it. But, why stock up? Note: If you are a representative of a raw food brand that is not mentioned in this blog post, please DO NOT take offense and DO NOT ask me to add your brand to the list. For me, they are a local company and I prefer supporting local businesses. Or you're reading this and wondering "what's happening with answers? I hand-fed him because when we was younger, he was a picky eater and would eat if I spoon or hand-fed him. Maybe I did something wrong; I don't know. This definitely made me a lot more comfortable with the big switch. I needed to find something that would be palatable for him to eat but beneficial as well. From what I have seen, it appears some individuals have been engaging in the spread of misinformation, what I believe are inappropriate threats and demands and intentional disparagement of the company. I know that many of the brands I listed above will help pet parents create a diet using the brand's food, treats, and supplements OR they'll help you find a brand that will work for you. Outcome: I still feed both my dogs the Raw Goat Milk and Fermented Fish Stock and will continue to do so. Spreading gossip is fun and titillating, so when I got the news, I was on the phone with friends as we speculated about what happened to the company. So, if a brand isn't on my list, please know that this doesn't mean that the brand has any flaws. I am not questioning the direction of Answers Pet Food, so I've decided to hold off on purchasing their products after today because I'm waiting to hear more about the changes the company will be making. Several months ago I noticed an ad on Facebook for a company called Answers Pet food. The information I've received so far can have many explanations and since I'm not privy to the discussions that were held prior to Billy's April 30th announcement, I won't pretend like I know what is happening nor will I condemn anyone. And, frankly, most of the things I'm reading are none of my business. I also started giving it to my other miniature schnauzer that doesn't have any special dietary needs. Billy once told me that either Jacqueline or Roxanne drinks it daily and, DAMN, that's hardcore. This is due to verification of ingredients - all verification was provided by Roxanne Stone who has resigned, thus making the verification null and void towards products manufactured after the resignation. I cannot add every raw food brand on the market. During the next meal, Scout wasn't eating. I split Rodrigo's uneaten meal between Zoey and Apollo, and they also had watery diarrhea. That's it. However, I do have a new Raw Feeder's Directory and if you'd like to be listed there, please visit RawFeederDirectory.com. I can't think of any other raw food brands that would receive this kind of response after an announcement of a similar change. While I believe most people are good and try to demonstrate, act in support of and fight for what they believe is justice, it is disappointing when such well-intended efforts actually cause more harm, making these supporters unknowingly complicit. Yes, ANSWERS™ is experiencing shortages in supply of our products for reasons including COVID 19 and shortages of labor and raw material matters. This is NOT an exclusive list. They recommended that I use tongs and I tried that as well. They used to wolf the food down. Unfortunately, personal, private matters, including the separation of Jacqueline and myself, have contributed to discord among the family and owners. We're learning two things from the news about Answers Pet Food: 1 - Answers Pet Food has made a significant impact on people's lives and the lives of their pets. They are a small company so they are NOT in many stores (only two in my area) and this sometimes leads to shortages. I'll miss Billy's Facebook Lives and I'll miss meals with the Answers team at events. This post may contain affiliate (af) links and I will be compensated if you make a purchase after clicking on an af-link. I then started adding small pieces of the raw patties to his meal. There are many other great raw food brands, but these come to mind immediately and were brands mentioned when people were looking for alternatives. What About Dogs that NEED Answers Pet Food? But online, I'm keeping it professional because there are real human beings behind these events and I won't help matters by spreading hateful gossip and posting hurtful comments. If you don't plan to continue to feed Answers Pet Food, this is a fantastic time to start educating yourself on how you can meet your dogs' health and nutritional needs through another brand or through DIY. I've heard so many stories of dogs that were very sick, a few on the brink of death, and Answers saved them. The Prescription Diet k/d that was recommended to him after a failed attempt at Royal Canin Vet diet was also becoming a bust. Hill President & CEO Source: Answers Pet Food Facebook Statement by Answers Pet Food Valued customers, We appreciate your patience as we are working to answer your questions. There are a lot of rumors and speculations going around, but I don't think that we will know the whole story until every party shares their perspective on events. My Final Thoughts on Answers Pet Food I was blown away by the response, but not surprised. So, these are my thoughts about Answers Pet Food: The only thing we know for certain is that Jacqueline Hill, Roxanne Stone, Billy Hoekman, and Dr. Doug Knueven are no longer affiliated with Answers Pet Food. I thaw in the fridge and feed right away, splitting the food between four dogs so that we go through it before it turns bad. We appreciate the patience and consideration that all our amazing customers, retailers, veterinarians, and distributors have afforded us at this difficult time. Gratefully, Jacqueline Hill and Roxanne Stone Source: Truth About Pet Food My Thoughts on Answers Pet Food 2020 changed my life because I repeatedly saw people react to the news, burning up social media while burning down communities, only to learn that they jumped the gun. I tried pork and also chicken. They answered all of my questions and even put together a diet plan that was beneficial to dogs with kidney issues.
